City Council Plans Budget Of $644,869

The Elba City Council met Thursday in a postponed meeting. All members were present except Councilman

Wayland Sharpless. The first item of business was to hear Kirby Johnson explain the new building he was going to construct on the site of the old Elba Ice House, next to the Elba Clipper. Johnson noted that he wanted to drop the building back in line with the Clipper, but wanted the city to be responsible for the sidewalk and parking lot paving.

The councilmen assured him that they would comply assuming all legal aspects were taken care of beforehand. Johnson said that if it were necessary he would give the city a deed to the strip of property, but he felt it was already public property.

Gavin Ellis, representing the Youth Council, appeared before the council and mentioned several complaints that had been presented to his group. The first was the condition of the dressing rooms at Elba High School. He said they were filthy. The City Fathers noted that this was business of the school board at its next regular meeting.

NOTE: This matter was discussed with Superintendent Elmer Taylor after the council meeting. He told this newspaper that he would immediately check the dressing rooms with the principals and get any existing problem cleared up that day.

Ellis also noted that the smoke coming from the City Dump was a hazard to driving as well as adding to pollution. He asked if some effort could be made to stop the burning of the trash at the old dump. Assistant Police Chief Max Rayborn noted that often in the early morning hours the smoke is so thick, it is impossible to see well enough to drive down the road. The council promised to attempt controlling this matter better.

The last item Ellis mentioned was the need of some lighting at the intersection of Claxton Avenue and Whitman Street. Charles Hayes III, Chairman of the Water and Electric Board was at the meeting and promised to put a street light up.

Three ladies from the Elba Pilots Club attended the meeting to observe and asked that a woman be considered for the

A freak tornado early Sunday morning completely destroyed four chicken houses belonging to Mr. Bobby Weeks of the Astory Community in southern Coffee County.

Three of the four houses had just been filled with baby chicks only five days prior to the twister. Those that were not killed were given to people in the neighborhood who would catch them. In all, Weeks said, 53,000 baby chicks were lost. He estimated the loss on the houses at over $60,000. Only part of this was covered by insurance.

It was reported that tin from the houses was scattered for three miles to the east of the site of the touchdown. No other damage was reported by any of Weeks' neighbors.

council went into executive session, Johnson told the group that Stokes didn't meet minimum standards according to Alabama law. The discussion of this had just begun when the council voted itself into executive session.

Following this executive session a motion was made to contact the Minimum Standards Department in Montgomery and get a written document in the matter and to also get statements from former chief Jack Smart and officer Max Rayborn. Also Stokes is to be notified in writing of the findings of the council.

The council then went into a discussion of the city budget. First a flurry of words accusing Councilman Ellis of putting off the matter for three months and him denying the charge.

Ellis suggested several changes in the budget, most just moved funds from one area into another. One suggestion cut some expense from the police department and Ellis said the chief had told him it was OK. The only other real change was to space out repaying some borrowed money over a ten year period. This left the council with a deficit of $46,011. No action was taken to raise this through taxes. The councilmen indicated they would consider this matter when the full council was present. The finalized budget adopted by the council totaled $644,869.

The council approved payment of bills totaling $6,128.95.

Three ladies from the Elba Pilots Club attended the meeting to observe and asked that a woman be considered for the next appointment to the school and countered with a request for names of qualified and willing women to serve on these and other boards.

Bobby King asked the council for help in supplying sewage to the Woodland Acres Subdivision (Howe Subdivision on Troy Highway). The council agreed to survey the matter, but didn't promise to provide the necessary funds.

The council was informed that discussion of extending the city limits would be on the agenda for a later meeting.

Two men presented the city council with a proposal to place trash cans around town with advertising on the sides. This would be paid for by the advertisers. The matter was tabled until the next meeting.

A letter was read to the council from Mrs. Pearce class at the Elba school. The 23 students had signed the letter thanking Policemen Andy Garrow for their visit to the police station. The letter read as follows: "We really did enjoy our trip to the police department last Friday. You were very kind and patient with us. We liked seeing all the many things in the office and seeing the fire truck and the police car. Thank you very much."

Councilman Ronnie Vaughan began questioning police chief Johnson about some action of the police department. After answering several of these, the subject of former officer David Stokes came up. Before the council went into executive session, Johnson told the group that Stokes didn't meet minimum standards according to Alabama law. The discussion of this had just begun when the council voted itself into executive session.

Following this executive session a motion was made to contact the Minimum Standards Department in Montgomery and get a written document in the matter and to also get statements from former chief Jack Smart and officer Max Rayburn. ## BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Last Thursday evening, the Elba City Council began to make some forward movements on the financial matters of the city. However, it was progress of questionable value. After all the weeks of delay by the group, it finally adopted a proposal submitted by Councilman Charles Ellis. His idea was to cut the police department a little and spread out repaying some borrowed money over a ten-year period. This leaves the city ONLY $48,011 from a balanced budget. Yet, already in five months of this fiscal year, Elba has spent $309,238.70 of the $344,869.00 budget. This means that to meet the adopted goal, monthly expenditures must be cut to the tune of $14,000 a month - from $62,000 to $48,000. Any government body has some fat that can be trimmed, but at this point, I honestly question the dream of operating Elba within the proposed budget, but hasten to add that at least someone has offered something in black and white to be debated.

While discussing the city's need for money, I must throw out some of the proposed ways of getting the additional funds. An additional sales tax was the first mentioned. Next, we heard of a cigarette tax, sewer tax, and several others that wouldn't bring in the necessary amount of money. Now, there is behind-the-scenes talk of a 1-1/2% gasoline tax. It is a fact of life we must accept - our city council is going to pass additional taxes of some kind. At this point the voters should be voicing opinions on just what type of tax we are going to be paying. Don't call me, call your city councilman - he is the one who will be doing the voting.

Our doctors from Ft. Rucker are fitting in just like a new pair of gloves. The hospital folks are working real close with them, and the sick folks in the area are getting good medical attention. This we can all be proud of.

A group of women appeared before the City Council last week and requested that women be considered for appointments to the school board and hospital board as well as other appointed boards. I quickly agree to this, assuming the appointment will be someone who will work and not just be window dressing. At the same time I ask, "Why don't women run for the city council?" Getting out and asking thousands of people to "please elect me to office" is not easy, and many of us will never put forth the effort, but someone must do it, and if women feel they should have a say-so in city government, then they should be willing to offer themselves for elected office.

Spring is here and with it the grass is growing in the flower beds and in the lawns of most Elba folks. Some of us have yet to get out the trusty mower and find out that it ain't so trusty. Others have already trimmed their lawns neatly and are waiting for warmer weather to start it growing fast. Anyway it's refreshing to see Spring has arrived.

Letters To The Editor

DEAR Mr. Cox,

If at all possible I would like to have published in the Elba Clipper the following letter of recognition and gratitude to the Elba Rescue Squad and Elba General Hospital.

On the night of Feb. 29 I tripped and fell in the doorway of my utility room fracturing my right hip. The Elba Rescue Squad transported me to Elba General Hospital where I stayed overnight. On the following day members of the squad transported me to an out-of-town hospital.

I cannot adequately express my gratitude to them for their courtesy, concern and careful handling on both trips.

My special thanks also go to Dr. Kinney and the nursing staff at Elba General.

During my stay in the hospital I had the opportunity to observe and experience the difference in the care and treatment given to patients there, and the personal attention given here. Our hospital may be small, but the personnel in all departments know the meaning of the phrase "tender loving care".

So often the grass looks greener in other places and we tend to forget the good things we have in our own backyard. Maybe this letter will cause others to take a closer look and also let the fine people of the Elba Rescue Squad and Elba General Hospital know that their efforts are recognized and appreciated.

Finally, I want to thank my friends for their visits, flowers, cards and phone calls.

Kelley still campaigning

Robert Earl Kelley, candidate for District Four, Place Two seat on the County Commission, said today he has been upset over reports that he has withdrawn from the race.

"I'm actively campaigning," he said. "I don't know where the rumors are coming from that I have withdrawn, but they are not true."

He said he would be seeing more people over the county in the immediate future.

Bicentennial Spotlight BY: Brenda Oglesby

SIGHT OF AMERICA
You cannot see America. It is not hot dogs; they eat hot dogs in Russia.

It is not baseball. They also play baseball in North Korea.

It's not even motherhood. Even though China didn't invent it, they've got it just like we have. America isn't something it's not being well governed, but governing well.

It's not being told what to do, but doing the telling. It's not merely voting for somebody, but helping somebody you want to get the votes.

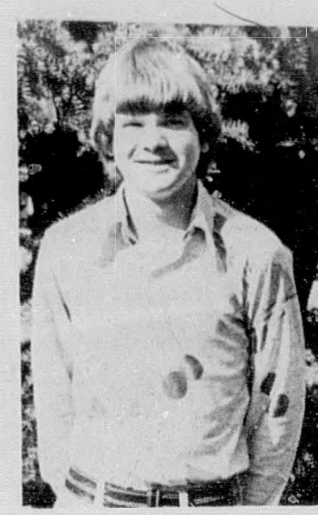

The thing we believe in most sincerely is the thing we cannot see. And WE CANNOT SEE AMERICA.

there's really no other way for you and your children and their children to live. To be an American is to be America. For America is the total of all strivings for justice and freedom by every single in America, to be is to do. The thing we believe in most sincerely is the thing we cannot see. And WE CANNOT SEE AMERICA.

What If.... Editorial

"The Seniors of '76 refused to graduate.
Mark King had an afro
Mr. Stump could say quarter
Rhonda Knight wasn't in love with Doony Osmont
James could get a steady date
Panama City was closed for the summer
Bobby Baker had straight hair
VICA officers had a practice meeting

The time is getting closer. Seven weeks of school are left for the Seniors of '76 and that's not long. The time our class has been working towards for twelve years is finally here. But why is everyone sad? It's a time when friends are splitting up and going separate ways. Some to school, some to work, and some to start a family of their own. The relationship between students will never be as close. We will not see each other five days out of the week.

EHS Student Wins Contest

Mark Kelley, a member of the Elba High School FBIA Club, won first place in the District Junior Accounting Contest held at Carver High School in Montgomery, Alabama, on March 6, 1976.

Other members attending this meeting were Rousie Donaldson and D'Ann Wilson. Miss Evans, Club sponsor, also attended the meeting.

On April 2, Mark will go to Birmingham, Alabama to take part in the State Junior Accounting Contest.

Coffee County Has School Nurse

BY: FAYE HOLLIDAY

Mrs. Patricia Malkoff is filling a vital spot in the six Coffee County schools - Zion Chapel, New Brockton, New Hope, Mt. Pleasant, Goodman, Kingston - and also Project Independence. She is the school nurse - something the county has never had before.

Pat began her services this year, and her program comes under Title III federal funds. County Superintendent Jimmy Baker and the school board realized the need for such a person, and requested the allocation.

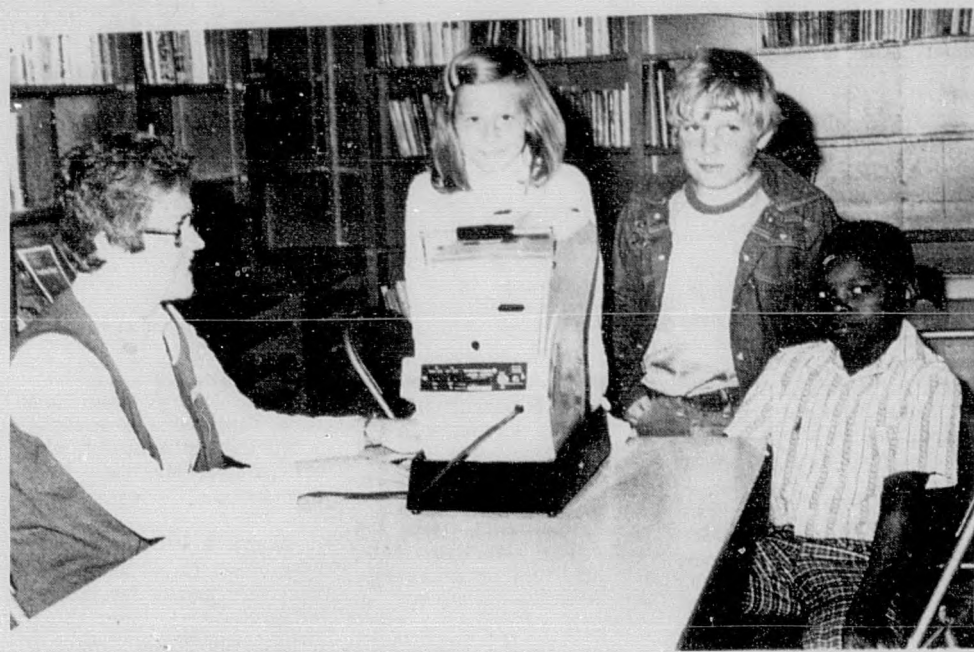

"I have been very well received by the parents," Pat said, "and all the teachers and principals seem delighted that I am in the schools. I feel that I am definitely filling a need, and I just love what I am doing. I love being with the children."

She performs many services, including eye checks, showing film strips, cleanliness - anything that has to do with personal health. The teachers are such a help, she says, for they are with the children all the time, and know their problems; and they in turn refer them to her.

If eye problems are detected, parents are notified. Students from the 1st, 4th and 8th grades are given the yearly eye check; dental problems are only touched on, since there is no facility for county children who are in need of dental care. The county officials are trying to arrange such a program, however.

"There is such a need for this," Pat said.

Pat is a registered nurse,

Mrs. Malkoff prepares to check the eyes of Kathy Henderson, Danny Parker and James McClain.

Her husband is Major Peter Malkoff, stationed at Rucker; they have two sons - Gene, 12, and Steven, 9, and live in Enterprise. Major Malkoff is from Wisconsin, and Pat is from Georgia. "We love it here," says Pat.

She goes into the homes regularly to become acquainted with the parents, and educate them on her role in the schools. "If we can reach the children while they're young, I feel we can at least begin to improve the lives of many people. As they see me in the schools regularly, and identify with me, then I will be able to help them."

This is her aim, and that of the county school officials - to have healthier children - and thus healthier, happier and brighter citizens.

Pilot International, in cooperation with the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, and Sears, Roebuck & Co. sponsors this annual contest.

Carol competed with others from District 12. The announcement of the category for which she was selected will be made at the District Convention, on April 1, 1976.

Carol, who has been a victim of rheumatoid arthritis since age 13, has had six operations, has artificial knuckles in both hands and one artificial hip joint. The other hip joint is to be replaced at some future date.

VIEWS FROM THE PRESSBOX

SPORTS EDITOR
BY RICKY MULLEN

SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAMS NEARING START
The City of Elba's summer recreation program kicks off in two weeks, and it looks like this year's program will be the best ever.

It was originally thought that the Dixie Youth Baseball League would suffer from a "lack of interest" this year, but an active recruiting campaign by D.Y.L. officials resulted in over 140 boys signing up to play. The Dixie Youth League involves boys age 9 - 12, and plans are for the league to field five (5) teams this season. The teams will play a 16-game schedule, and at the end of the season will field an all-star team which will represent Elba in the D.Y.L. tournament in Greenville.

Due to the large number of boys signing up to play Dixie Youth Baseball, a D.Y.L. Minor league will be formed. The league will consist of four (4) teams, and will be made up of players whom the coaches feel are not ready to participate in the Dixie Youth League. The Minor League will be a franchise league, and at the end of the season, the league will select an all-star team for tournament play. This year is the first year the Minor League has been franchised.

The Babe Ruth Baseball League will begin its fifth season this summer, and will again consist of four (4) teams. The league is made up of boys 13-15, and on Monday of this week 60 boys had registered to play. The league will play a 14-game schedule, and will field an all-star squad to compete in post-season competition.

The Elba Men's and Women's Softball Leagues have already begun practice, and they also seem ready to begin their biggest, and best season ever!

The Men's League currently consists of five (5) teams, but three more teams have expressed interest in entering a team. If the three teams do field a team, the Elba League will boast eight (8) teams, the most ever.

The Women's League has caught the men's in interest. At the present time 10 teams have joined the league, and I've heard that a couple more want to join. If all these teams do indeed play, Elba will have a women's league second to none in the area.

Plans are also underway for a girls' softball league, but at the present time, it hasn't been formally organized. Besides having the softball and baseball leagues, Recreation Director Bo Dunaway will also have the two swimming pools, all the basketball courts, the tennis court, the skating rink, and the Recreation Center open throughout the summer.

It looks like a busy summer for Mr. Dunaway, and an enjoyable one for the citizens of Elba!

STATE TOURNEY ARTICLE DRAWS RESPONSE
My article two weeks ago about the officiating in the state basketball tournament drew a quick, but not unexpected, response from Mr. Bubba Scott, Executive Secretary of the Alabama High School Athletic Association.

In a letter, Mr. Scott challenged my accusations about the poor officiating, and asked me to go into detail over my accusations. I am in the process of writing Mr. Scott a letter, and I hope it will clarify my position.

SPRING TRAINING CONTINUES AT EHS
Spring football training may only be in its third week, but Elba football fans are already beginning to talk about the upcoming season.

Most of the talk centers around the Tigers' new coach, Mac Champion. Most people feel that, with the Tigers under Champion's leadership, Elba is destined to return to their role as a winning football team.

I've seen Elba practice twice, and I'll admit that this year's practice is different from most I've seen!

There is laughter from the players, and everyone seems to be having a good time. Don't get me wrong! The players are working hard, and are learning, but they're having fun doing it. Everybody knows that we've got the talent to win football games, and everybody knows that we've got the winningest football coach around.

You know what? - I'm ready for football to start myself!

ODDS-N-ENDS
***Coach Wayne Purvis pulled a shocking upset last week by beating Ted St. Martin in a free-throw contest, and by doing so, winning the "World Free Throw Championship." Purvis made 25 of 100, while St. Martin hit on 94 of 100.

***Rumor has it that ex-Elba coach Leon Atkins has been named head football coach at Escambia Academy. It seems Atkins' hiring at Auburn was premature, to say the least.

Elect BEN J. BROCK
Probate Judge
Coffee County

Your Courthouse will be open during the noon hour and on Saturday to enable the working people in our county to conduct their business without having to lose time from their jobs.

VOTE FOR BROCK

I Will Be Most Grateful For Your Consideration

Champion had not divided the teams at press time, but the two squads will be led by Russ Cash and Marty Marler at quarterback and Larry Phillips, James Smith, Jimmy Marston, Johnny Dyess and Win Westbrook at running backs.

DOCTOR DRIBBLE

Indiana, UCLA, Rutgers and Michigan are all that's left in the run for all the marbles in the NCAA basketball tournament.

UCLA gets a chance at a rematch with Indiana in the NCAA semi-finals. In the season opener Indiana easily routed UCLA but the Bruins have adjusted to Gene Bartow's system, so this should be a much better game. The Rutgers-Michigan contest should be a good one. Both undefeated Rutgers and Michigan rely on their quickness.

Rutgers has had the easiest road of the four semi-finalists. Of their three victories, only Princeton was ranked in the top twenty. Michigan's run and gun offense ruled over three pretty good opponents, coming from behind to defeat Notre Dame and Missouri.

I'll pick Indiana over UCLA and Michigan over Rutgers in an upset. In the finals I believe Indiana will show their supremacy and take the title back to Hoosier country.

The SEC proved itself a contender with any other conference in America. Conference champion Alabama carried Number One ranked Indiana to the buzzer before bowing to the experienced Hoosiers.

Fourth place finisher Kentucky took the prestigious NIT title. The SEC should be even stronger next year. Only Vandy loses more than one regular. Every other team has numbers of underclassmen returning.

TEDDY BARNES LAYS IN TWO- POINTER DURING STELLAR SEASON.

Teddy Barnes, 6-3 center for the Elba Tigers, was named last week to the All-South Alabama Conference basketball team.

Barnes, a three-year starter for the Tigers, averaged 15.7 points a game during his senior year and hauled down 11.4 rebounds per game.

Two Elba players received honorable mention. They were: David Smith, a senior, guard, and Terry Barnes, a junior, forward.

The remainder of the ALL-SAC team is: Taylor Hiri, Eufaula; David Quinney, Eufaula; James Brundidge, Opp; Rickey Johnson, Pike Co.; Eugene Simpson, Geneva; Kenny Knight, Andalusia; Willie Griffin, Greenville; Mike Clausen, Andalusia; Marvin Williams, Troy; Thaddeus Grace, Andalusia, and M. V. P. Rickey Knight, Andalusia.

The coach of the year was Richard Robertson of Andalusia, while the "Good Sportsmanship Award" went to the Andalusia Bulldogs.

Cheryl Campbell is one of our featured Seniors this week and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Huey B. Quattlebaum of Route Five Elba.

Grady enjoys football, hunting and fishing. When he was asked what could we do to improve our school he said he felt more money was needed to buy additional athletic equipment. Other than the above mentioned hobbies, we have learned at school while taking a class in Family Living.

Grady likes the people you meet around school more than anything else. But in a short time he will graduate and after that he plans to go into the Navy.

Cheryl says that she wants to continue her photography work but only as a hobby. As a career she says she's more interested in Journalism or Music; but who knows someday when you least expect someone may say, "Smile! You're on Cheryl's Camera!"

Grady Quattlebaum is one of our featured Seniors this week and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Huey B. Quattlebaum of Route Five Elba.

Grady enjoys football, hunting and fishing. When he was asked what could we do to improve our school he said he felt more money was needed to buy additional athletic equipment. Other than the above mentioned hobbies, we have learned at school while taking a class in Family Living.

Grady likes the people you meet around school more than anything else. But in a short time he will graduate and after that he plans to go into the Navy.
